

What prompts the user — live demonstration

Twenty-one contracts staged in the live system, each one existing to demonstrate exactly one thing. Part 1 walks a single event through every department. Part 2 proves each business rule by triggering it on screen.

21 contracts    124 notifications    2 procurement requests    10 department logins

BEFORE YOU BEGIN

How this demo is set up

Every notification in the system right now was produced by the system itself — either by a department action, or by the payment-compliance and kitchen-preparation sweeps running against these contracts. None were written by hand.

All prior notifications were cleared first, so what each department sees is exactly what these contracts generated. Contract numbers are prefixed DEMO-W for the walkthrough and DEMO-R for the business rules. Event dates are set relative to the day the data was prepared, so "4 days out" stays true.

| DEPARTMENT | LOGIN                     | NOTIFICATIONS WAITING |
|------------|---------------------------|-----------------------|
| Sales      | sales@juancarlos.com      | 3                     |
| Accounting | accounting@juancarlos.com | 11                    |
| Kitchen    | kitchen@juancarlos.com    | 15                    |
| Banquet    | banquet@juancarlos.com    | 8                     |
| Logistics  | logistics@juancarlos.com  | 8                     |
| Creative   | creative@juancarlos.com   | 14                    |
| Linen      | linen@juancarlos.com      | 14                    |
| Stockroom  | stockroom@juancarlos.com  | 14                    |
| Purchasing | purchasing@juancarlos.com | 2                     |
| Admin      | admin@juancarlos.com      | 11                    |

Local development accounts seeded from server/seed.js. Banquet has four supervisor accounts; the eight alerts above are what each one sees.

One event, passed department to department

Demonstrate these in order. Each card names the contract to open, what the department sees when they log in, and the notification that put it there. The point being made throughout: nobody went looking for this work — it arrived.

| DEMO-W1-SALES Amanda Robles 60th Birthday |                                                                                                                                                                         | Draft · 180 pax |
|-------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|
| SHOWS                                     | Sales creating a booking is the one genuinely external trigger in the system. Everything downstream follows from it.                                                    |                 |
| DO THIS                                   | Open the contract as Sales. Point out the stage badge reads Awaiting Department Validation — Sales cannot proceed until Creative, Linen, and Stockroom sign off. |                 |
| BACKED BY                                 | Draft inventory validation needed for DEMO-W1-SALES sent to Creative, Linen, and Stockroom the moment the draft was saved.                                   |                 |

| DEMO-W1B-SALES-CONFIRM Torres Corporate Anniversary |                                                                                                                                                                                               | Draft · 260 pax |
|-----------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|
| SHOWS                                               | The return leg. Departments have finished validating, so the ball comes back to Sales automatically.                                                                                          |                 |
| DO THIS                                             | Log in as Sales. The alert is waiting with a Confirm payment term button that opens straight to the payments tab. Show that the stage badge has moved to Confirm Payment Term . |                 |
| BACKED BY                                           | Inventory validation complete for DEMO-W1B-SALES-CONFIRM                                                                                                                           |                 |

| DEMO-W2-VALIDATION Villanueva-Santos Wedding |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Draft · 200 pax |
|----------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|
| SHOWS                                        | What an inventory department actually does with the prompt — and that stock is checked against the specific event date, not a general on-hand count.                                                                                                                |                 |
| DO THIS                                      | Log in as Linen . Open the contract. The system flags Sash Red: 60 needed, 28 available — needs 32 more item(s) for this event date , and proposes alternatives from the same category. From here they either confirm or raise a procurement request. |                 |
| BACKED BY                                    | Draft inventory validation needed for DEMO-W2-VALIDATION                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                 |

| DEMO-W3-ACCOUNTING Meridian Corp Annual Conference |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Submitted · 320 pax |
|----------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------|
| SHOWS                                              | The single click that starts operations. Accounting's approval is what releases the event to six departments at once.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                     |
| DO THIS                                            | <ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. Log in as Accounting — the signed contract is waiting.</li><li>2. Approve it, then immediately check Kitchen, Banquet, Logistics, Creative, Linen, and Stockroom: all six now have a new task.</li><li>3. Return to Accounting and show the original alert has turned into a green Done tag. This is the clearest single demonstration of resolved-state detection.</li></ol> |                     |
| BACKED BY                                          | Signed contract ready for Accounting: DEMO-W3-ACCOUNTING                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                     |

| DEMO-W4-KITCHEN Delos Reyes Golden Anniversary |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Approved · event 5 days out |
|------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------|
| SHOWS                                          | Staged, time-based prompting. Kitchen is told three separate times, because approval can be months before anyone should start cooking.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                             |
| DO THIS                                        | Log in as Kitchen. Show Kitchen: begin preparations for DEMO-W4-KITCHEN — fired by the sweep because the event crossed inside 7 days, with no human involved. Open the menu and use Print Kitchen Checklist : the per-dish client notes appear ("Client asked for less chili", "Serve sauce on the side"). Note the stage badge says Event Week , not "Materials Frozen" — the freeze governs inventory, not food. |                             |
| BACKED BY                                      | Approved event - review menu for DEMO-W4-KITCHEN Kitchen: begin preparations                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                             |

| DEMO-W5-BANQUET Batangas Medical Society Gala |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Approved · event 11 days out |
|-----------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------|
| SHOWS                                         | Required staffing derived from the guest count rather than left to judgement.                                                                                                                                                         |                              |
| DO THIS                                       | Log in as Banquet. The dashboard's next step reads Assign banquet staff ; inside 7 days it sharpens to "Finalize day-of staffing". Show the required headcount computed from the pax count and the attendance sheet print-out. |                              |
| BACKED BY                                     | Approved event ready for banquet: DEMO-W5-BANQUET                                                                                                                                                                                     |                              |

| DEMO-W6-LOGISTICS Aguilar Debut Celebration |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Approved · event 6 days out |
|---------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------|
| SHOWS                                       | The direct answer to the previous panel's question: how will Logistics know what they are bringing?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                             |
| DO THIS                                     | Log in as Logistics and open the load manifest. It lists every reserved item across all three inventory departments with quantities and an estimated load volume — backdrops, rattan balls, 260 napkins, tables, chafing dishes, 260 forks. Show that truck availability already accounts for other events on the same date, and that the workflow is Inventory Transport and Staff Transport as two separate bookings. |                             |
| BACKED BY                                   | Approved event ready for logistics: DEMO-W6-LOGISTICS                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                             |

| DEMO-W7-PURCHASING San Jose Parish Centennial |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Approved · 240 pax |
|-----------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------|
| SHOWS                                         | Purchasing never initiates — a shortage somewhere else creates its work.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                    |
| DO THIS                                       | The contract needs 40 chafing dishes against 25 on hand , so Stockroom raised a request. Log in as Purchasing: the notification opens the queue tab and scrolls to that exact request . Walk the chain: source a supplier → submit budget request → Accounting approves → purchase → submit proof → Accounting confirms the expense. |                    |
| BACKED BY                                     | New Stockroom procurement request carrying a direct link to the request.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                    |

| DEMO-W8-ADMIN Mercado Silver Wedding Anniversary |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Approved · all departments complete |
|--------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| SHOWS                                            | Management is told when the event is ready, instead of having to keep checking.                                                                                                                                                              |                                     |
| DO THIS                                          | Log in as Admin or Sales. Every department has finished: menu confirmed, ingredients prepared, truck and driver assigned, staff assigned, all inventory prepared. The system fired a single one-shot alert the moment the last one finished. |                                     |
| BACKED BY                                        | All departments ready for DEMO-W8-ADMIN sent to Sales, Accounting, and Admin.                                                                                                                                                     |                                     |

Each business rule, triggered on screen

Every rule below comes from Appendix H and is enforced on the server, not merely displayed. The badge shows whether it blocks the action, warns and allows it, or computes a requirement. We block where a violation corrupts money or data; we warn where an experienced person may have a legitimate reason.

|                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                 |
|-------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| DEMO-R1-RESERVATION Bautista Wedding Reception |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | ₱300,000 contract                                                               |
| RULE                                                  | Stated                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | The ₱30,000 reservation fee is non-refundable and sits inside the down payment. |
| ON SCREEN                                             | The payment history shows the fee recorded separately (₱30,000 cash, receipt OR-DEMO-0001) followed by ₱90,000 completing the 40% down payment. Refunds require a formal cancellation letter and Execom review, which is deliberately outside the system. |                                                                                 |

|                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                      |
|----------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------|
| DEMO-R2-AGING Northgate Realty Client Night |                                                                                                                                                                                           | Booked 110 days ago · nothing collected                              |
| RULE                                               | Reminds                                                                                                                                                                            | Down payment due 2 months after booking, then a 30-day aging window. |
| ON SCREEN                                          | Accounting has all three escalating alerts, produced by the sweep in sequence — not by anyone logging in. This is the strongest single answer to "what if nobody uses the system?" |                                                                      |
| BACKED BY                                          | Start 40% collection follow-up 40% collection task Account uncollectible                                                                                 |                                                                      |

|                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                            |
|--------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|
| DEMO-R3-HOLD Ramirez Family Reunion |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | ₱277,200.00 outstanding · event 45 days out                |
| RULE                                       | Blocks                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Final balance must be collected 2 months before the event. |
| ON SCREEN                                  | The client paid the 40% on time and never paid the 60%. No one placed this contract on hold — the sweep did. The stage badge reads Final Balance Overdue / On Hold in red and preparation is blocked. Show that settling the balance releases the hold automatically on the next sweep; nobody has to remember to undo it. |                                                            |
| BACKED BY                                  | Final balance overdue - contract on hold: DEMO-R3-HOLD to Accounting, Sales, and Admin.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                            |

|                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                   |
|--------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------|
| DEMO-R4-OVERPAYMENT Lorenzo Corporate Christmas Party |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Remaining balance exactly ₱60.00                  |
| RULE                                                         | Blocks                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | A payment may never exceed the remaining balance. |
| ON SCREEN                                                    | This is the defect reported at the last defense, fixed and demonstrable. The contract value is ₱262,144.33 with ₱262,084.33 collected.1. Try to post ₱60.01 — rejected, quoting the exact remaining balance to two decimals.2. Post ₱60.00 — accepted, and the contract can be closed. Previously an exact final payment was rejected because of floating-point drift. |                                                   |

|                                              |        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|----------------------------------------------|--------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| DEMO-R5-FREEZE Castillo Christening Luncheon |        | Event 4 days out · all items prepared                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| RULE                                         | Blocks | 7-day material freeze before the event.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| ON SCREEN                                    |        | The contract is inside the freeze window and every item is prepared. Try to revert an item to pending, or edit the material list — both are rejected with an explanation that reserved materials are locked to this event and an exception must come from management. Admin can override; the override is recorded. |

|                                            |       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
|--------------------------------------------|-------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| DEMO-R6-TRANSPORT Ferrer Retirement Dinner |       | Event 2 days out · 7 staff assigned · nothing booked                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| RULE                                       | Warns | Transport arranged at least 3 days before the event.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| ON SCREEN                                  |       | Logistics sees both warnings, quoting Appendix H by name — one for the inventory truck, one for staff transport covering the 7 assigned staff. Deliberately advisory: a genuine last-minute booking is a real operational event, and a system that made it impossible would simply be worked around on paper. |

|                                                      |          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|------------------------------------------------------|----------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| DEMO-R7-WAITER-RATIO Provincial Capitol Awards Night |          | 525 packs · 500 seated guests                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| RULE                                                 | Computes | 1 waiter per 25 guests.                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| ON SCREEN                                            |          | The system derives 20 service staff from 500 seated guests and shows it against the 6 currently assigned, so under-staffing is a visible number rather than an opinion. The same rule drives the staffing forecast in the Banquet report. |

|                                            |        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
|--------------------------------------------|--------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| DEMO-R8-STAFF-DRIVER Alvarez Beach Wedding |        | 13 staff need transport to Nasugbu                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| RULE                                       | Blocks | Every staff transport vehicle must have a driver.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| ON SCREEN                                  |        | Book staff transport and try to save a vehicle with no driver — rejected. Show that the vehicle list offers only passenger vehicles (coaster, van, shuttle bus, SUV), that capacity is checked against the 13 assigned staff, and that auto-assign considers only driver-paired vehicles. Staff are not transported in the back of a cargo truck. |

|                                               |        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|-----------------------------------------------|--------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| DEMO-R9-LEAD-TIME Gonzales Corporate Townhall |        | Event 5 days out                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| RULE                                          | Blocks | Standard requisitions need 7 days of lead time.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| ON SCREEN                                     |        | Raise a standard requisition needed in 3 days — rejected, with the message directing the user to file an emergency requisition instead. An emergency requisition is already on file for this contract, showing the legitimate path. The distinction is an audit trail, not a loophole: rush purchases are recorded as rush purchases. |

|                                                  |        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|--------------------------------------------------|--------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| DEMO-R10-PACKAGE-CAP Perez Simple Birthday Lunch |        | Basic package · at its 3-main limit                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| RULE                                             | Blocks | The package tier caps how many dishes may be selected.                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| ON SCREEN                                        |        | The Basic package already carries its maximum three mains (beef, pork, chicken). Try to add a fourth — rejected at contract creation, per course category. This stops the package price and the kitchen's actual workload from drifting apart. |

|                                                         |        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|---------------------------------------------------------|--------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| DEMO-R11-SAMEDAY-A / -B Herrera Wedding & Domingo Debut |        | Same event date · 25 chafing dishes total                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| RULE                                                    | Blocks | Stock is reserved per event date, not counted in general.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| ON SCREEN                                               |        | Two events fall on the same day. -A is approved and holds 20 of the 25 chafing dishes. Open -B as Stockroom: it needs 12 but the system reports "20 item(s) are already reserved for another same-day event — needs 7 more item(s) for this event date" , and offers alternatives. Double-booking is impossible, and the reason is named. |

IF ASKED

Three questions worth rehearsing

| QUESTION                                  | ANSWER                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|-------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| What prompts the user to open the system? | Four things, in descending directness: a colleague finishing the previous step, which writes their task in the same request; a deadline passing, handled by sweeps that run with nobody logged in; their own dashboard queue, where every row states its next step; and a guardrail that stops them mid-action. The first trigger of all — a client enquiry — is external. Everything after it is system-initiated. |
| What if nobody logs in for a week?        | Point at DEMO-R3-HOLD. Nobody placed it on hold; the sweep did, and Accounting, Sales, and Admin all have the notice waiting. Settling the balance releases it automatically.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| How do you avoid notification fatigue?    | Each reminder is sent exactly once, checked against contract, type, and title, even though the sweeps run four times a day. Completed tasks re-label themselves green rather than sitting there red. Notifications for closed contracts delete themselves. And each one carries a direct link to the exact record needing action.                                                                                   |

Worth volunteering before it is asked: notifications are in-app only, so a user who never opens the system is not reached externally; and the sweeps run every six hours rather than continuously, so a reminder can arrive up to six hours after its due moment. No rule depends on minute-level precision.

Prepared from the CAP2 working branch. Regenerate this dataset at any time with `node server/seedAdvisorDemo.js` – it clears all notifications, rebuilds the 21 demo contracts, and re-runs the real compliance sweeps.